

Getting candle wax off fabric:

1. Place an ice pack on the wax spot until it becomes hard.
2. Flake off all the hard wax you can by flexing the fabric and scraping with a dull object such as a spoon or butter knife.
3. If wax remains, cover the spot with a paper towel and apply a warm iron (set at lowest setting) to melt and absorb the wax into the towel. To eliminate the chance of scorching the fabric by an iron that is set too hot, direct hot air from a hair dryer onto the paper towel.

Removing stains:

1. Mix 1 tsp Dawn dishwashing detergent in 1 gallon of water.
2. Spray the fabric until it is wet.
3. Scrub the stain with a bristle brush
4. Remove excess liquid with a wet vacuum.
5. Spray with clean water.
6. Remove excess water again with a wet vacuum.
7. Let the fabric air dry.
8. This process can be repeated if the stain is not completely removed.
